Sligo Jazz Festival is one of Europe's most unique. Six days of workshops, masterclasses, ensemble sessions, jam sessions and, of course, concerts. Most of the events take place at IT Sligo from 10am to 4pm each day. Some of the world's most accomplished and respected jazz musicians come to share their craft to an enthralled summer school of over 120 participants each year. They are joined in their pursuits by many of Ireland's prominent jazz players and educators.

What makes this festival so unique is the nature of the performances. Many of the concerts are one-off events, drawing from the amazing pool of musicians in our teaching faculty at our disposal each July. We also have visiting acts who are not teaching on the summer school, including one of the UK's finest youth orchestras and a young Brazilian group that will blow many minds. A varied line up of Nat King Cole classics, funky fusion, big band music, Indian Konnakol music, a bit of Steely Dan, some modern jazz, world music and even overtone singing will be packing them in at various venues in Sligo.

There are a few notable differences at this year's event from previous events. Our twice-daily jam sessions at 6pm and 10pm are located at Andersons this time round. We also have a different format in the late jam session. Each night we will feature one musician from our faculty, given licence to invite others from the pool of amazing musicians to join them, for a short 45 minute set each night in the middle of our famous jam session. This will add immensely to six exciting nights of great music.

Enjoy!

4.30pm Hargadons

OFFICIAL FESTIVAL LAUNCH PARTY

Paul Clarvis and Friends

featuring Cathy Jordan

Paul Clarvis - drums, Mike Nielsen - guitar, Eddie Lee - bass, plus special guest Cathy Jordan - voice

A Sligo Jazz perennial, renowned UK session drummer and percussionist Paul Clarvis, who has performed with Stevie Wonder, Nina Simone, Paul McCartney, Leonard Bernstein, Hans Zimmer and many others, insists on having a Hargadons slot each year, such is the fabulous, quintessentially "Sligo Jazz" atmosphere at Sligo's famous gastropub. Paul will be joined by three of Sligo's finest, including trad music icon Cathy Jordan making a rare foray away from the Great Irish Songbook into the Great American Songbook. They will be joined by Sligo-born guitarist Mike Nielsen, one of just two SJP perennials since its inception in 2005, along with the man behind SJP, bassist Eddie Lee, his only official appearance on this year's festival.

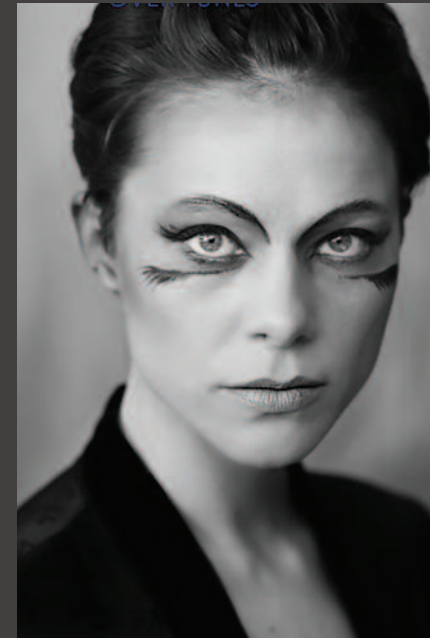

6pm - 7pm Hamilton Gallery, Adm. €10

Anna-Maria Hefele

Voice, Harp, Nickleharp

German overtone Singer Anna-Maria Hefele brings her extraordinary craft to Sligo Jazz festival for the first time. Overtone singing is a vocal technique where it seems like one person is singing two notes at the same time by filtering and amplifying the natural harmonics in the human voice. It can be used artistically as a musical instrument or can function as an educational tool for singers, choral conductors and voice teachers. Her YouTube video "Polyphonic Overtone Singing" has received more than 11 million views. If you're interested in learning about how Anna-Maria does this, she will be giving workshops at our summer school in IT Sligo on Wednesday and Thursday mornings, July 24/25 at 10am, see sligojazz.ie for details.

TUESDAY 23 JULY

FESTIVAL LAUNCH DOUBLE BILL

Malafede Trio & Andreas Varady Trio

8pm Hawk's Well Theatre

€18/15conc./€9 u18s Booking: 071-9161518/www.hawkswell.com

Malafede Trio with special guest Paul Booth

Malafede Trio is Sligo Jazz Project's 2019 Band-in-Residence, featuring Federico Malaman, one of the world's most influential bassists, with two other notable artists on the Italian music scene, guitarist Riccardo Bertuzzi and drummer Ricky Quagliato.

Federico Malaman is an Italian bassist, double bassist and arranger who has been touring with some of Italy's most renowned artists including Mario Biondi, Antonella Ruggiero and Paolo Belli. His extraordinary versatility allowed him to gain a foothold as an appreciated and requested musician for sessions, while he simultaneously became a reference in the contemporary jazz- fusion international scene as a virtuoso on the electric bass.

A creative and tireless musician, Federico is constantly switching among recording studios, international festivals, TV shows and international music trade events and has a prominent role on the internet. His astonishing virtuosity and charisma has gained him a place as one of the most followed musicians and teachers on the internet. Throughout his musical journey, Federico has performed with renowned international artists such as George Benson, Solomon Burke, Wilson Pickett, Al Jarreau, Kid Creole, Zucchero, Virgil Donati, Billy F. Gibbons (ZZ Top), and Jean-Paul "Bluey" Maunick (Incognito).

The trio will also be joined by guest saxophone ace Paul Booth

(Stevie Winwood/Eric Clapton/The Eagles)

TUESDAY 23 JULY

Andreas Varady Trio with special guest Jean Toussaint

*Andreas Varady - guitar
Bandi Varady - bass
Adrian Varady - drums
Jean Toussaint - saxophone*

Since Andreas Varady's family moved to Ireland in 2007 his rise to prominence in the jazz world has been meteoric. From busking for the passers-by of Limerick and Cork, attending Sligo Jazz Project's summer school, aged 13 he became the youngest ever headlining artist at Ronnie Scott's in London, performed with some of the greatest names in jazz, appeared on the front cover of Guitar Player magazine and signed to Quincy Jones' management company.

Andreas's trio featuring his father Bandi and brother Adrian, will be joined by guest saxophonist, Jean Toussaint, who mentored Andreas' when he attended Sligo Jazz Project several years ago.

10pm till late Andersons

David Lyttle Group featuring Jean Toussaint

MOBO nominated drummer/composer David Lyttle has performed around the world, stopping in Russia, China, the U.S., Canada, Holland, Spain and Switzerland in recent months. He has collaborated with a long list of jazz visionaries from Kurt Rosenwinkel to Joe Lovano and played in the European trios of jazz icons David Kikoski and Jesse Van Ruller. Special guest Jazz FM Instrumentalist of the year 2019, Jean Toussaint on saxophone and other luminaries from SJP's stellar faculty.

WEDNESDAY 24 JULY

4.30pm Hargadons

Paul Booth with guests Liane Carroll & Sara Colman

Paul Booth - sax, Scott Flanigan - organ, Steve Davis - drums, singers Liane Carroll and Sara Colman

Having released five solo albums to date, Paul Booth has firmly established himself as an in demand solo artist, as well as a 'first call' sideman for many big names in both jazz and popular music worlds. Paul arrives in Sligo straight from a European tour with the Eagles, having already toured this year with Steve Winwood on his European tour along with Steely Dan. Paul is joined here by the cream of Sligo Jazz's 2019 faculty including guests Liane Carroll and Sara Colman.

10pm till late Andersons

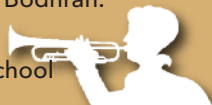

Roche's Blues and The Sligo Truth

Cathal Roche - saxophone, with Matthew Halpin - saxophone, John Joe Kelly - bodhran, Scott Flanigan - piano, Conor Murray - bass & Steve Davis - drums

Cathal Roche's Blues and the Sligo Truth is a new jazz suite which mines local reels, jigs and hornpipes to assimilate the melodic and modal intensities of the Sligo musical tradition within a jazz setting. Through an harmonic and temporal sensibility of the post-bop era, Roche drives pulsating and elusive melodies through improvisational forms and modulating time. The group of Irish jazz musicians assembled for the session include saxophonists Cathal Roche and Matt Halpin, pianist Scott Flanagan, bassist Conor Murray, with drummer Steve Davis being joined by John Joe Kelly on Bodhrán.

Musical Director, NYOS Jazz:

Malcolm Edmonstone

Principal Conductor, NYOS Jazz:

Andrew Bain

plus guest artist

Yazz Ahmed - trumpet

NYOS Jazz Orchestra makes its debut appearance at Sligo Jazz Festival, as part of its 2019 summer tour to Northern Ireland and Eire and we are thrilled to welcome guest artist Yazz Ahmed to inspire our students and audiences with her exceptional musicianship and flair. NYOS Jazz Orchestra continues to enjoy prestigious performance opportunities nationally and internationally under the directorship of Malcolm Edmonstone and Andrew Bain.

Guest artists make an immeasurable contribution to the NYOS Jazz Programme and we are thrilled to welcome British-Bahraini trumpet and flugel player Yazz Ahmed. Her music, arranged for the Jazz Orchestra by Malcolm Edmonstone, will offer the orchestra and audiences alike the unique chance to immerse themselves in Arabic sounds and spirituality. To complement Yazz's music, Malcolm has also arranged a set written and inspired by female writers. From Billie Holliday and Mary Lou Williams via Alice Coltrane and Joni Mitchell to modern day composers like Nikki Isles, Esperanza Spalding and Norah Jones. Join us as we explore their captivating music.

*Michael Pipoquinha - bass
Pedro Martins - guitar
Leonardo Montana - piano
Adriano DD - drums/percussion*

Michael Pipoquinha is one of those rare self-taught super talents. The Brazilian virtuoso who gained much worldwide internet notoriety as a child prodigy is now 23 and poised to make his mark on the world music scene. He has already wowed audiences at live performances in Europe and South America. He had the great honour to be the soloist, in 2018, of a special Jaco Pastorius tribute with Latvian Radio Big Band, in Riga. Don't miss this chance to see one of the most exciting young musicians on the planet today.

"My idea of a great show is to touch people with my music so they can leave overflowing with joy and a feeling that music heals the soul".

Plus Anna-Maria Hefele

"Magnificently confusing" - Ashton Kutcher

Tonight's concert will open with a small taste of one of the most unique artists you are likely to hear, the astonishing overtone singer, Anna Maria Hefele. Overtone singing is a fascinating vocal technique where it seems like one person is singing two notes at the same time. This happens by filtering and amplifying the harmonics that are contained in the sound of the human voice through specific and precise modulations of the tongue and the vocal tract.

FRIDAY 26 JULY

3pm Lyons Café The Kobe Trio

Con Schmaucks - drums, Jaimie Carswell - bass, Mark Murphy - piano

The Kobe Trio, formed in late 2016, is a piano trio based in Sligo. They came together through a love of improvised music, performing a blend of original, contemporary and classic instrumental jazz with an adventurous and passionate interplay. The atmospheric harmonies are contrasted with interlaced rhythmic grooves and collective improvisations, combining the soundscapes of Cinematic Orchestra with the syncopated rhythms of Phronesis and the jagged melodies of Thelonious Monk.

4:30pm Hargadons SJP Guitar Trio (Nielsen, Buckley, Bertuzzi)

Unforgettable: The Magic of Nat King Cole with Sachal Vasandani

plus Liane Carroll, Sara Colman
& the SJP International Band

8pm Hawk's Well Theatre

€20/17conc./€10 u18s Booking: 071-9161518/www.hawkswell.com

Vocalist Sachal Vasandani is one of the great singers of our time and the perfect man for a Nat "King" Cole centennial celebration. Sligo Jazz Project is honoured to be the first European festival to host this show since its debut at the Lincoln Centre last December with John Clayton and Wynton Marsalis's band. Sachal will be bringing famed US arranger John Clayton's Lincoln Centre arrangements direct from New York, along with soloists including Jazz FM instrumentalist of the year, saxophonist Jean Toussaint, Paul Booth, trumpeter Ryan Quigley and trombone ace Shannon Barnett as well as a member of last December's Lincoln Centre orchestra, Corkman Paul Dunlea, also on trombone.

A distinctive, groundbreaking artist in his own right, Vasandani's "beautiful, velvety voice and remarkable stage presence" (NPR) nonetheless draw comparisons to Nat "King" Cole himself. Vasandani is particularly well known for his Cole tribute project, which has featured classics like "Unforgettable," "When I Fall in Love," and "Straighten Up and Fly Right." Tonight's concert also features songs from SJP's other two amazing 2019 vocalists, Sara Colman and Liane Carroll.

10pm Hargadons

Sarah Crummy and Jessie Whitehead

Some sweet soul and Americana from two of Sligo's brightest young female performers.

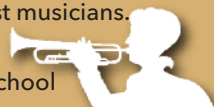

10pm till late Andersons €5

DOUBLE BILL

Sue Rynhart and Huw Warren plus Ryan Quigley Sextet

"Utterly unique" ... Irish Times

Sue Rynhart is "an excellent vocal technician, a captivating singer and an accomplished songwriter and lyricist. With a background in early music, classical, choral singing and improvisation she often sings in a very bright clear voice with folk, early music and jazz influences. She creates an edgy blend of modern jazz and different sounds pushing the music forward with her own unique vision of things. Back at Galway Jazz Festival, award winning pianist Huw Warren met rising young vocalist Sue Rynhart and they decided to jam to see what happened. Well what happened is a slew of originals, rethinkings, strange wonderful takes on Alban Berg, traditional Irish song and more." (Bernard Clarke, Lyric FM)

Ryan Quigley is an award winning jazz and lead trumpet player and an in demand studio musician, composer, arranger and educator whose recording and touring credits include Quincy Jones, Aretha Franklin, George Michael, Michael Buble, Tom Jones, Robbie Williams, Bob Geldof, Randy Brecker, Till Bronner, Michel Le Grand and Kurt Elling. He has been guest trumpet or soloist with many orchestras including the BBC Big Band and the Halle Orchestra.

4.30pm Hargadons

The Little Big Band

Fraser Gaine - alto/tenor sax, Peadair Murphy - tenor sax,
Tom Ryan - baritone sax, Sam Purcell - drums

We do love to showcase blossoming young Sligo musicians - since that is what Sligo Jazz is all about - and especially those summer school attendees we have seen grow each year in confidence and musicality. This up-and-coming Sligo band features a trio of alto, tenor and baritone saxophones and a drum kit, performing a great variety of music, full of harmony and groove, a mix of covers of iconic songs in a multitude of genres along with some original pieces.

The culmination of the week when all of our 120+ summer school participants get their moment to shine. Well, its not like they haven't been shining at the jam sessions all week but this is the big bash where they get to perform the tunes they've been working on each afternoon in their ensemble sessions. Last year we had 20 bands performing in a marathon 4 hour performance. Expect something similar this year. Stamina is required for this most exuberant event of the week!
