Jazz:

A style of music, native to America, characterized by a strong but flexible rhythmic understructure with solo and ensemble improvisations on basic tunes and chord patterns and, more recently, a highly sophisticated harmonic idiom.

The term "Jazz" is often misunderstood in these parts as being associated with Dixieland, Glenn Miller, Frank Sinatra, or closer to home, Paddy Cole or Sligo's musical heroes The Jazz Ladds. All the above are worthy representatives of certain strands of jazz music, but there is so much more music out there that should be called jazz: the musical idiom has grown and expanded exponentially since its New Orleans origins in the early 20th century with the infiltration of musical influences from all over the world.

In the last couple of decades a great new wave of jazz has grown throughout USA and Europe. In many ways Europe has taken over as the hub of cutting edge modern music, much of which could be described as jazz. Perhaps "Modern Music" is a better definition of this new jazz. In the spirit of Miles Davis it dares to evolve past traditional jazz boundaries by bringing rock, pop, R&B and world music influences into the mix, creating and inspiring new musicians for the 21st century.

Sligo Jazz Project is a volunteer-run organization set up in 2005 by myself and other Sligo musicians, to promote jazz education and performance in the Sligo area. We have done this by bringing world-class musicians here to teach and perform. In 2013, our eighth year, we host our strongest summer school faculty and most eclectic festival line up to date. We have always kept our programme jazz-focused but with more than a glance towards the cutting edge.

On the following pages you will see a hugely diverse programme of events that we are very proud to have assembled for your delectation. We don't want you to miss a minute of this line up and so have introduced a special season ticket for all our main events at the Hawk's Well Theatre. All five evening concerts for €85 is a wonderful bargain, considering the opener, Mike Stern/Victor Wooten Band is €35 a ticket. With more than one world premiere, several beautiful fusion groups and some kickass big band music included in the bill, there is something for everyone at Sligo Jazz 2013.

Eddie Lee, Artistic Director, June 2013.

Mike Stern/Victor Wooten Band

Featuring B. Franceschini & D. Watson

Mike Stern - guitar

Bob Franceschini - sax

Victor Wooten - electric bass/vocals

Derico Watson - drums/vocals

This year's festival opener is a veritable supergroup from the USA:

Mike Stern, one of the world's most respected jazz-fusion guitarists, who has collaborated with many jazz greats including Miles Davis, The Brecker Brothers and Esperanza Spalding, is joined for an exclusive Irish date for the first time by arguably the world's greatest electric bassist, Victor Wooten. Since the news broke of Wooten's imminent visit, the excitement has been tangible, in the music community and general public all over Ireland and beyond.

Victor Wooten is the bassist with Bluegrass/Jazz Fusion supergroup Bela Fleck and the Flecktones, with whom he has won five Grammy awards in a glittering career spanning over thirty years. Victor Wooten was voted one of the top ten bassists of all time by Rolling Stone magazine in 2011, and is widely renowned amongst the most innovative bassists in modern music history. He has been called "the Michael Jordan of the bass" and hailed as "one of the most fearless musicians on the planet".

Bob Franceschini, in an era of saxophone sound-alikes, remains one of the instrument's most original, vital voices. Credit his early schooling with Salsa stars Eddie Palmieri, Tito Puente and Willie Colon, and his R&B/pop turns with Paul Simon, Chaka Khan, Jennifer Lopez and Lionel Richie - all of which has shaped his cutting-edge contributions to jazz trailblazers Mike Stern and the Yellowjackets.

Derico Watson has performed as drummer with George Duke, Michael McDonald, Stanley Clarke and Larry Carlton and has toured and appeared alongside Earth Wind and Fire, James Brown and Spirogyra.

NOTE: LATE START TIME, 9.30pm!

A joint SJPIHawk's Well Theatre promotion, this is undoubtedly one of Ireland's musical highlights of 2013.

FUSION DOUBLE BILL in association with RTÉ lyric fm

The Ollam & Janek Gwizdala

At SJP we have always strived to feature the best world music alongside our jazz acts and tonight we have both rolled into a superb, eclectic double bill, a real treat for music lovers, with two very different types of fusion music, one Celtic, the other jazz.

the ollam: John McSherry - pipes/whistles
Tyler Duncan - pipes/whistles/guitar/keyboards
Michael Shimmin - drums/percussion
Joe Dart - bass
Sean O'Mara - guitar
John McCullough - keyboards

In 2012, three of Celtic music's contemporary masters came together to create one of the most interesting musical collaborations of the year. Dubbed "the ollam" (an old Irish word which refers to a master of a particular trade or skill), the trio is the creative offspring of Belfast-native John McSherry (uilleann pipes and whistles), and Detroit-natives Tyler Duncan (uilleann pipes, whistles, guitar, Rhodes), and Michael Shimmin (drums and percussion). Listeners may be reminded of modern artists such as Radiohead and Coldplay at one moment and seminal Irish artists such as The Bothy Band and Planxty may be equally reminiscent at another. Yet, the overarching musical impression is organic, focused, distinct, and musically mature.

Janek Gwizdala - electric bass with Michael Nielsen - guitar Stephen Davis - drums

Opening our double bill is a world premiere collaboration between one of the world's finest electric bassists, SJP e-bass tutor 2013, Janek Gwizdala and Ireland's most original jazz guitarist Michael Nielsen, with Stephen Davis (NI) on drums. London born US based Bass player and record producer Janek Gwizdala has toured as a band leader and worked as musical director or sideman with some of the most respected names in the industry including Randy Brecker, Pat Metheny, Gary Husband, and Peter Erskine. Michael Nielsen has gained a reputation as one of the leading guitarists in European jazz. He has performed with international artists including Kenny Wheeler, Jason Moran, Simon Nabatov, Joe Lovano and Dave Liebman. Stephen "Dakiz" Davis is a professional percussionist and composer, known as much for his jazz drumming as his free improvisational style of playing. He has played with, amongst others, Rufus Reid, Norma Winstone, Django Bates, Matthew Bourne and Evan Parker.

DOUBLE BILL

in association with RTÉ lyric fm:

Kenny Werner Trio plus

The Barinthus Suite WORLD PREMIERE

This concert is being recorded by RTÉ lyric fm for future broadcast

Kenny Werner - Piano

John Riley - Drums

John Goldsby - Double Bass

Kenny Werner, world-class pianist and composer, is principal piano tutor at our 2013 summer school. His prolific output of compositions, recordings and publications continue to impact audiences around the world. Kenny was awarded the 2010 Guggenheim Fellowship Award for his seminal work, No Beginning No End, a musical journey exploring tragedy and loss, death and transition, and the path from one lifetime to the next. Utilizing over 70 musicians, Kenny's third album for Half Note Records is an expansive composition featuring Joe Lovano, Judy Silvano, Wind Ensemble, Choir and String Quartet. His book "Effortless Mastery" is widely acclaimed as a work of great depth and value to musicians and professionals worldwide. Kenny is joined by two fellow Americans, also on our 2013 faculty, and equally accomplished in their own right: Grammy award winning recording artist, John Riley who returns to Sligo as principal drum tutor for the third year running, and John Goldsby, double bass tutor in our 2013 faculty, who also visits Sligo for the third time.

The Barinthus Suite WORLD PREMIERE

David Lyttle and Eddie Lee have been commissioned by the Hawk's Well Theatre to write a suite of music for performance during the festival. The piece, entitled The Barinthus Suite, named after the ancient Celtic god of the sea and inspired by Sligo's megalithic landscape, was written on Coney Island, Sligo in May 2013. A fusion of Celtic, jazz and hip hop influences, the Barinthus Suite features alongside David on drums and Eddie on double bass, Kenny Werner on piano, soloists Jean Toussaint, saxophones, Mike Nielsen, guitar and special guests including piper/low whistler Tyler Duncan (from the ollam), bodhran maestro John Joe Kelly, and two of Sligo's most talented young musicians: Ted Kelly, banjo, and Jos Kelly, accordion/keyboards.

Thanks to the Hawk's Well Sligo for commissioning this suite and the Arts Council of Ireland for funding the commission.

Dublin City Jazz Orchestra

with special guests Ian Shaw,
Marshall Gilkes and Jean Toussaint

Leader: Ciaran Wilde

Musical Director: Brendan Doyle

One of SJP's highlights of 2011 was Ireland's premier big band, the DCJO with special guests from our stellar summer school faculty, Marshall Gilkes and John Riley. This year DCJO returns with a programme of music featuring the original compositions of US based Irish composer David O'Rourke, and no less than three guests from SJP's 2013 faculty: vocalist Ian Shaw, trombonist Marshall Gilkes and saxophonist Jean Toussaint.

Ian Shaw has been described as one of the most distinctive, original and creative jazz singers on the scene, and is also a talented pianist and songwriter. Twice voted "Best Jazz Vocalist" at the BBC Jazz Awards and nominated this year for a JazzFM award, he has more than a dozen albums to his name.

Marshall Gilkes returns to Sligo for the third time. His last performance as guest of Dublin City Jazz Orchestra was truly one of Sligo Jazz Project's most memorable nights in its eight-year history. Don't miss the chance to witness this awesome combination in Sligo again in 2013.

Jean Toussaint

US tenor saxophonist Jean Toussaint is saxophone tutor on Sligo Jazz Project. His place in jazz history is well established, alongside the Marsalis brothers and many other significant jazz heroes, Jean is a former member of Art Blakey's Jazz Messengers. Note: This concert is affiliated to the Arts Council sponsored DCJO June 2013 tour "David O'Rourke – A Prophet In His Own Land", featuring the US based Irish guitarist/composer David O'Rourke. Although David will not be here in person, his music will be featured.

Kenny Werner: "Effortless Mastery" Workshop

With his book Effortless Mastery - Liberating the Master Musician Within, Kenny Werner without intention, sparked a revolution of inspiring musicians to do inner work on the mind, body, and soul in attempt to upgrade their musical experience from the mundane to the profound. The book is also popular with artists of other mediums and business professionals. Kenny gives a workshop on the book's concepts. Because of the huge effect Effortless Mastery has had on musicians and indeed people of all walks of life worldwide, we have opened this important event to the public.

"...one of the most enjoyable jazz albums to emerge in many a year."

– Donald Helme, RTE Lyric FM

Nigel Mooney has long been regarded as Ireland's leading blues singer/guitarist. His sensitive tenor voice, soulful jazz guitar stylings and preference for an acoustic-sounding, jazz approach to the blues have made him a unique and popular artist. His new CD "The Bohemian Mooney" went to number 1 in the Irish jazz charts and was RTE's CD of the week in May. Nigel leads a powerful septet for our kickass Saturday festival club.
