Safety Statement for Sligo Jazz Project

It is the policy of Sligo Jazz Project to protect, as far as is reasonably practicable, the safety, health and welfare of all its voluntary workers, contractors, sub-contractors, performers, audience and committee members.

We are committed to your safety. We ensure that all events take place in buildings with Fire Safety Certificates and all other relevant safety licences, processes and procedures, and we highlight all emergency exits at each event. We control the numbers of people that can attend an event with a ticket booking system and stewards at each event ensure compliance with ticketing.

If you are attending the events or volunteering at any of our events, you must also take care over the things you do, to make sure that you don't affect other people's safety along with your own.

RISK AREAS AND CONTROL PROCEDURES

Evacuation Procedures / Safety Equipment

None of Sligo Jazz Project's events should be at major risk as the festival will not host any risk-taking events such as fireworks or outdoor events in general. Suitable fire and emergency evacuation procedures are in place for all events.

All events take place in well-known indoor venues, each with its own fire, health and safety procedures in place.

Signs, emergency lighting, notices and other aids are provided and maintained as deemed appropriate. Fire extinguishers are placed in appropriate prominent positions and are inspected, tested and maintained in accordance with the installer's recommendations.

No road closures or local disruptions are anticipated as SJP event is targeted at a focused audience and all events take place indoors.

This Safety Statement

Is aimed at protecting our Performers, our customers and our voluntary workers from accidents and ill health during Sligo Jazz Project.

Shall be brought to the attention of performers, customers, voluntary workers and outside service providers

Is available to inspectors of the Health and Safety Authority

Will be updated as and when additional hazards are identified and assessed

Will be reviewed at least annually.

The Safety, Health and Welfare at Work Act 2005

The Safety, Health and Welfare at Work Act 2005 requires both employers and employees to consider health and safety as a joint responsibility. The co-operation of all concerned is sought to ensure that the highest standards of health and safety are maintained in the church and other parochial property. There is a statutory obligation on all employees, performers, volunteers and visitors to co-operate with SJP and to take reasonable care of their own health and safety and of others who may be affected by their acts or omissions.

Details of Safety Statement:

A copy of the full safety statement, including the Festival's Insurance policy, may be inspected upon request to the Chairman.

Safety Sub Group

SJP recognises its statutory obligations to consult with employees and voluntary workers on matters of safety and health and to pay due regard to any representations made by them. All appropriate information and training is afforded them on matters of safety and health.

Any employee or voluntary worker engaged in such consultative process is not placed at any disadvantage.

Consultation takes place in the ambit of the SJP Committee, as a Safety Subgroup under the chairmanship of SJP. Meetings are held as an integral part of the SJP meetings, which take place quarterly and more frequently closer to festival time.

Any matters directly affecting employees or voluntary workers are communicated to them by any means deemed appropriate.

Safety Inspections:

SJP requires that copies of safety inspections of all properties used for events are made available to the committee. The Chairman, or an appointed delegate will inspect these reports before events are agreed with the host property.
